

To build energy projects, tribal buy-in is best achieved through tribal engagement via tribal stakeholders.

Building a multi-national, multi-state and multi-technology coalition in the Four Corners area...

Tom Chee, Jaycob Garcia, Kyriakos Galiotos, Matthew Gonzales, Lydell Rafael, Ryan Scott, Duane Tsinigine

Intro

Four Corners Clean Energy Alliance (4CCEA) was founded by tribal leaders and stakeholders on the Navajo Nation to facilitate local support for the adoption of clean energy projects.

Methods

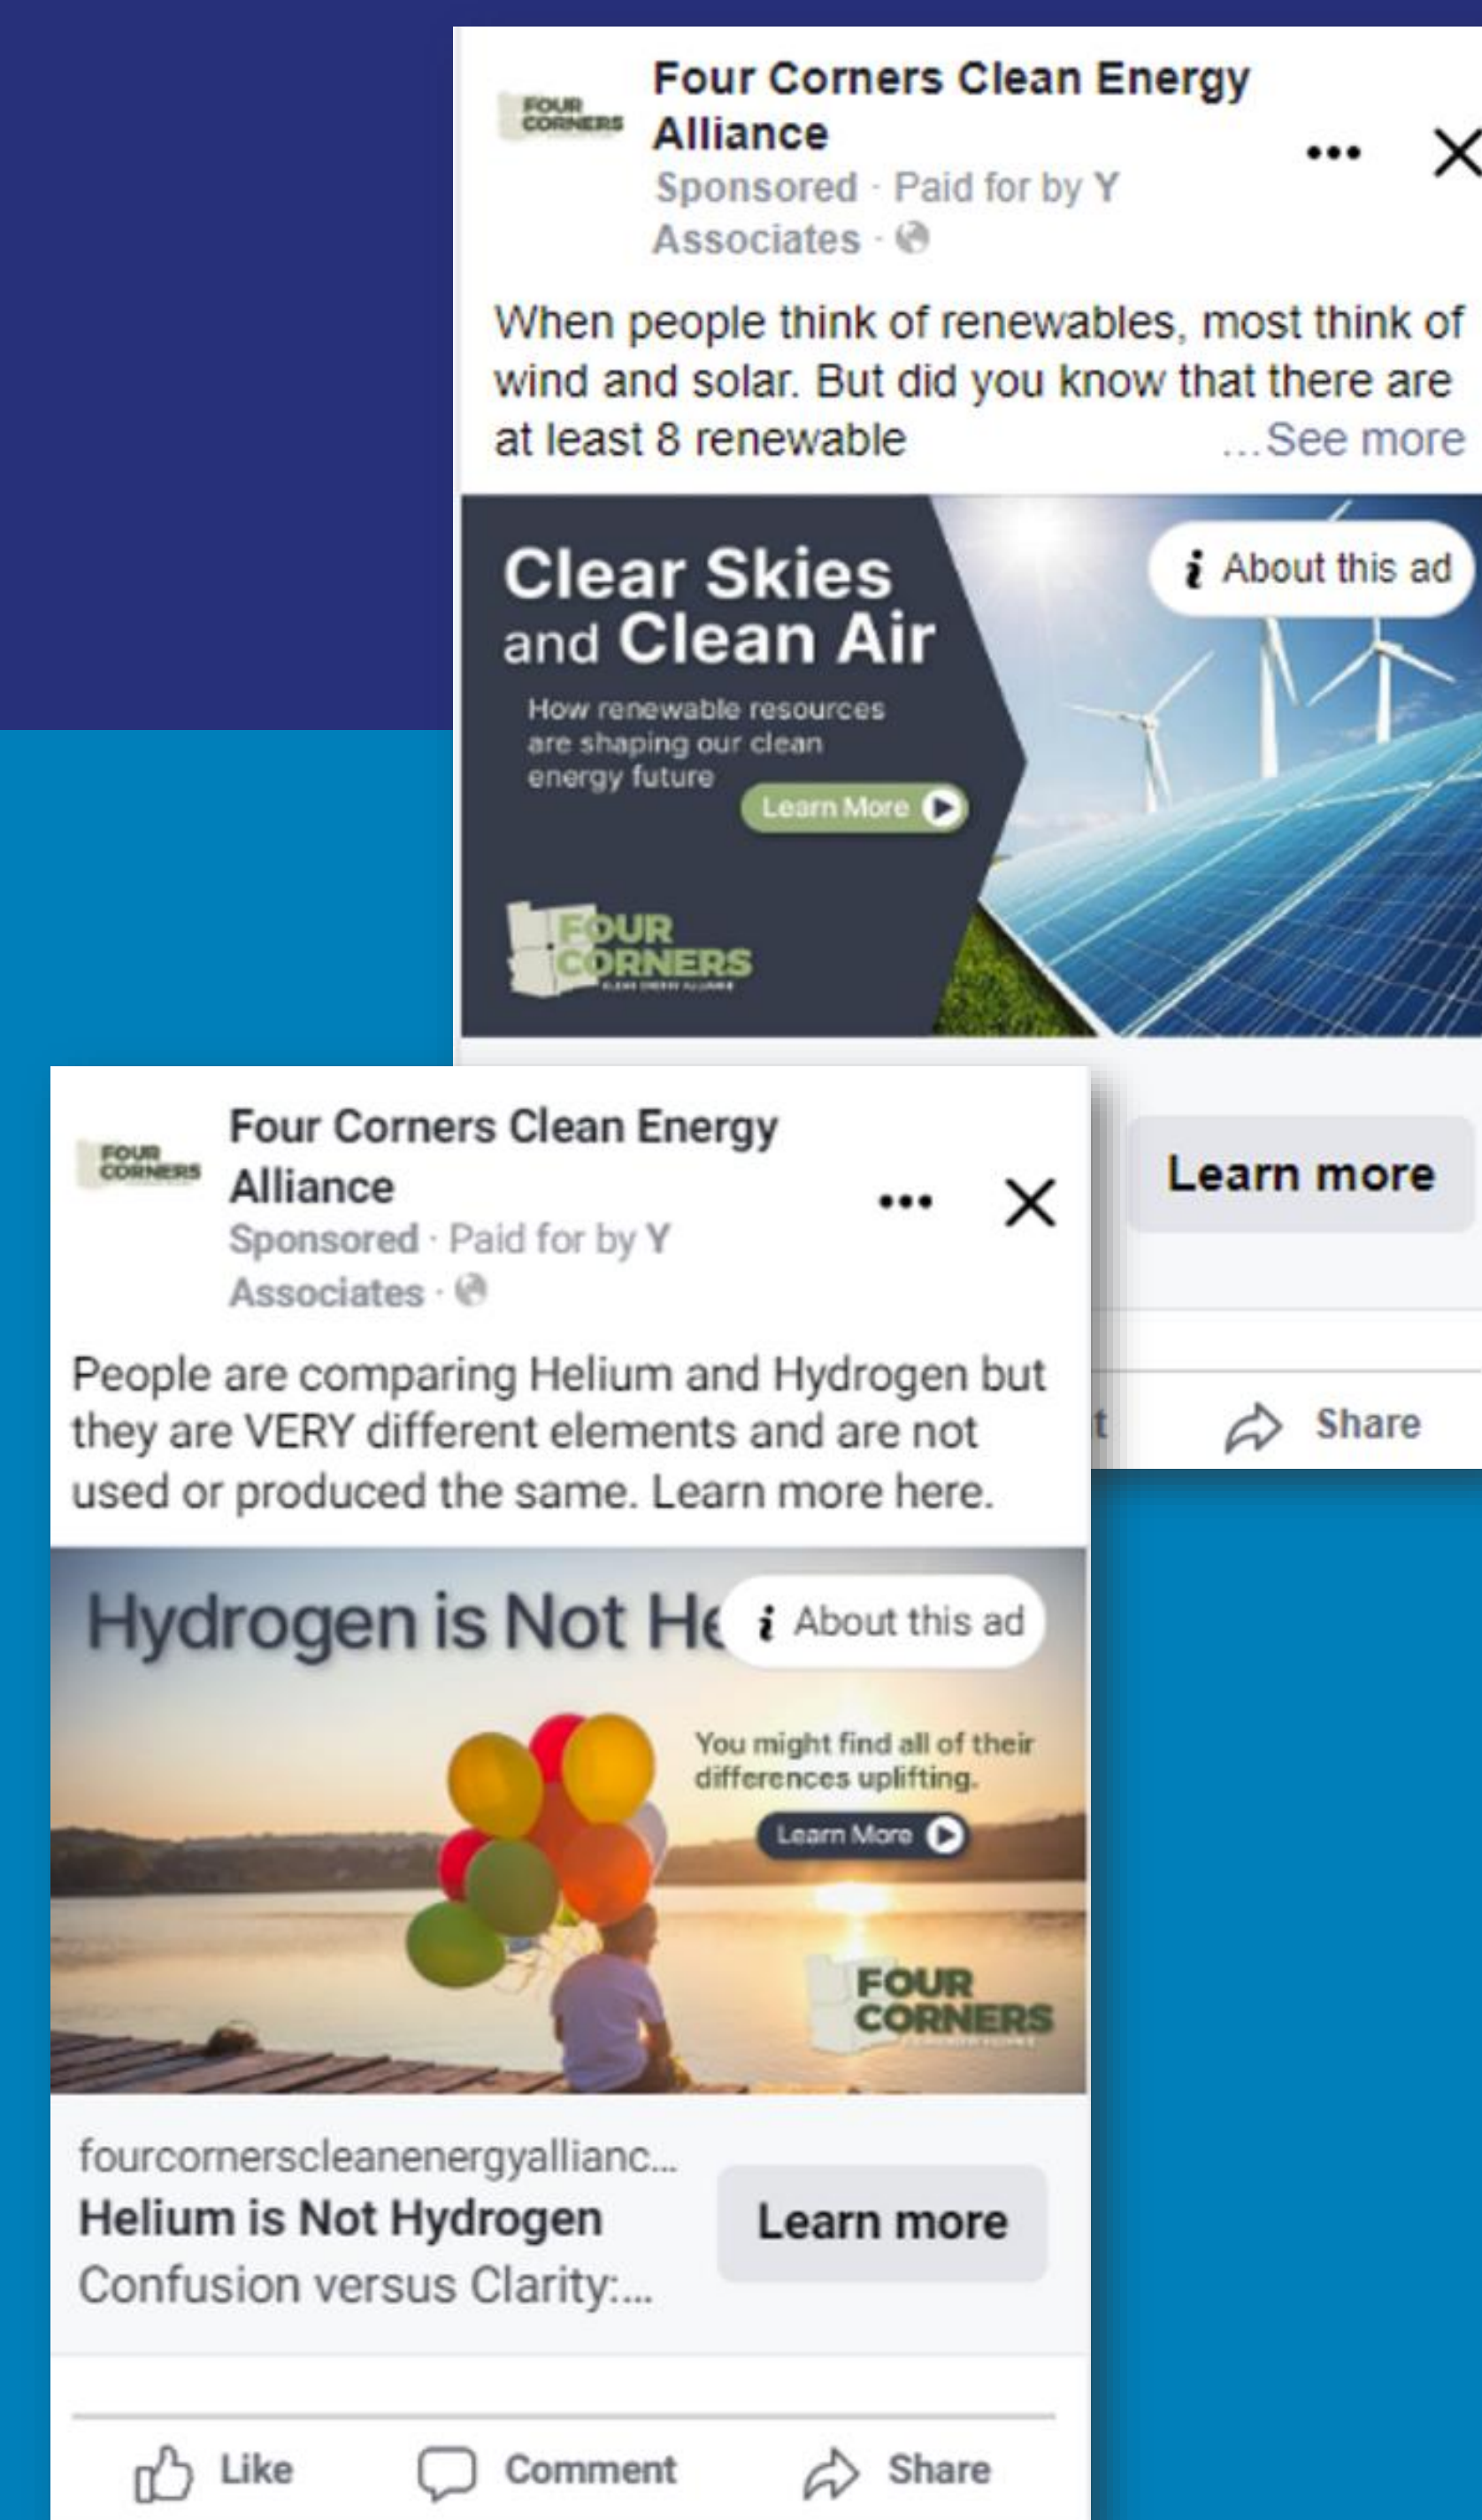

- Navajo People
- Navajo Culture
- Navajo Language

Results

- Buy-in from Key Decision makers, local and central
- Leadership requests for more education
- Understanding & buy-in from stakeholders to “finish the job”

Discussion

- Elder Education Sessions & Gatherings
- Chapter (local) presentations
- Technology “field trips”
- Social media outreach

Mr. Steve Grey, Ms. Ellen Stechel,
Mr. Dory Peters, Mr. Lydell Rafael,
Mr. Andrew Browning,
Mr. Derrick Watchman, Mr. Lionel Haskie

Four Corners Clean Energy Alliance
matt@fourcornerscleanenergyalliance.org

